Undiscovered church history from an examination paper. "The Protestant Reformation was when the Protestants broke away from the Catholic Church and began to forgive their own sins."

"Gayle is what you might call an adroit man." "Decidedly. His sins never find him out and his creditors never find him in."

"Had we learnt at school today that animals have a new fur coat every winter?"

"The quiet, your mother is in the next room."

Among members of the Men's Dress Reform Party, we are told, shorts, breeches and the kilt all have their supporters. It would be most awkward if they hadn't.

"What bring you, sailor, home from the sea—
Coffers of gold and ivory?"

When first I went to sea as a lad
A new jack-knife was all I had:

And I've sailed for fifty years and three
To the coasts of gold and ivory:

And now at the end of a lucky life,
Well, still I've got my old jack-knife
(Walter W. Gibson).

"Canst thou not minister to a mind diseased
Pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow,
Raze out the written troubles of the brain,
And with some sweet oblivious antidote
Cleanse the stuffed bosom of that perilous stuff
Which weighs upon the heart?"
(Shakespeare — Macbeth.)

TUDOR

When a host of mutual friends meet to shower congratulations on a bride and groom, everybody has a merry time, but when the groom happens to be Mr. Arthur Danmore of Tudor, son of Mr. Harry Danmore, of Rockford and the bride, formerly Miss Ann Patterson, school teacher of Rockford, the occasion is one of more than ordinary good fellowship.

Tudor Hall was crowded on the night of Friday, April 16th with friends and relatives of the young couple, from Calgary, Banff, Rockford, Hinton and of course the hometown.

When the young pair entered they were led to their chariot, which was to carry them in state around the hall. In this case, the chariot was an old time buggy decorated for the occasion in white and pale pink.

The bride and groom mounted to their precarious looking seats and the equipage started on its bridal tour. The horse, Eddie King, struck a quite impressive gait. Under cover of navigating a corner the local tuner let the doll's buggy on behind. The reception it received was most gratifying. The four seated, the happy pair dismounted, and the orchestra played.

At midnight a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Carl Browne and the committee.

Mayor Walrod of Rockford, an old friend of both the bride and the groom then made a speech of presentation. He referred particularly to the bride's

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. This decay produces gas, indigestion, and you feel sick. A more honest movement doesn't always get on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get some new bile going freely and make you healthy. The liver is the factory for the bile of animals but has no exhaust or storage in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

excellent qualities as a neighbor and a teacher, and presented, on behalf of the gathering, the many gifts on display. Among these, was a Westsudan silver dinner clock, from Tudor, and a case of silverware from Rockford.

The groom replied in his usual jolly manner.

Mrs. Arthur Danmore thanked the donors very charmingly, she spoke of her affection for her pupils and their parents. The gifts from her school children, she said, were especially dear to her and she would treasure them always. Continuing she stated that teaching school was an arduous occupation, but she suspected that managing a husband would be equally as difficult a task, and the attention paid to the audience maintained under their breath, "You said it."

Little Betty Lou Schmitz sang, "I Love You Truly" very sweetly, accompanied by Miss Kathleen Naylor of Calgary and all were charmed with the lovely voice of Mrs. Scott of Calgary.

The orchestra played more dance numbers, helping to make the evening a warm and hearty demonstration of good fellowship towards the newlyweds. Everyone enjoyed the prevailing spirit of romance in the air. The young couple, with perhaps just a tinge of envy, young married couples felt sympathetic and perhaps just a trifle blue. The older married people got a glimpse once again of the dear old days when they, too, were starting out upon an unknown future together.

ECONOMIC IMPORTANCE OF GRASSES

What will become of semiarid Alberta as Cultivated Lands are abandoned?—Hanna Board of Trade carrying on campaign for regrassing and introduction of river valleys—Agriculturists discuss types and importance of Western Grasses.

Editor's Note—In order to promote "grass consciousness" among residents of the semiarid areas of east central Alberta, the Agricultural Committee of Hanna Board of Trade has been carrying a campaign of education having as its ultimate object the re-seeding to suitable ranges of many thousands of acres of abandoned land in the growth areas.

The Hanna Herald congratulates the Board upon the splendid work undertaken by its agricultural committee. This paper has long recognized the necessity and wisdom of widespread regrassing and the future of this country depends, to a great extent, upon the extent to which seeding of suitable grasses may be successful.

The Hanna Board of Trade and the Hanna Herald are to be commended for their action in combating this soil drifting problem and being alive to the seriousness of conditions before it is too late.

This active interest should be extended to all parts of south central Alberta, and Saskatchewan. The Standard regrets lack of space prevents publishing in full the address given by Mr. A. H. Drinkman who possesses a knowledge of grasses gleaned through years of arduous study right here in Western Canada. We feel it would be wise for the benefit of each Municipality to get a copy, and so study best methods and institute a plan to overcome this danger. Save the land while yet there is time.

ONTARIO'S PREMIER ACCLAIMED IN BOTH CANADA AND UNITED STATES

Heppburn Gets the Spotlight

The strike at Ottawa last week has brought Canada into the full glare of publicity that has featured industrial and economic conditions in the United States during the past few months. The publicity Canada has received across the border has been most favorable. United States newspapers and businessmen generally, greeted enthusiastically the firm, courageous stand of Ontario's Premier Heppburn against industrial lawlessness.

The Heppburn statement which attracted most attention was the quick, clear-cut way in which he swung into action against any form of lawlessness in the province; his assertion: "The Government's obligation, with respect to the maintenance of law and order is one from which self-administration has no desire to escape. The very fact that this was played up as a sensational statement in both Canada and the United States indicates the extent to which the John L. Lewis industrial dictatorship has swept ordinary standards of law and order into the discard.

The net result is a wave of respect and admiration for Canada and Canadian institutions and leadership that cannot help but have many far-reaching benefits to this country and to the cause of sound industrial relations on both sides of the line. Already, American businessmen are wishing they could "swap a Heppburn for a Roosevelt" and the cause of branch plant expansion into Canadian territory has been given a major boost.

Even more important from an international viewpoint is the fact that the Heppburn challenge is being cited as the first important clash the C. I. O. has had on either side of the line since its spectacular rise to power a few months ago. There is general agreement that this bold defiance by Heppburn of an international dictatorship for industry is the sort of stand the American authorities should have taken from the first and there is little question that his action will affect the success of the movement on both sides of the international boundary.

Vital Issues at Stake. Apart from unexpected publicity, the Ottawa strike has brought into the open in Canada, some of the most vital issues in the whole field of industrial relations—issues that may mark a turning point in industrial and certainly in labor history in the Dominion.

Passenger—Have I time to say goodbye to my wife?
Porter—I don't know sir, how long have you been married.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, the Standard—I have several comments on the suggestions made in your editorial of last week in reference to improving strathmore beauty. That is a move in the right direction. We would like to see the "City Fathers" at their next Council meeting take action by naming a committee, with in or outside the Council to take up this work in an active manner in a Cleanup Campaign. The time is ripe, yours for an improved town.

CITIZEN.

Town Fire Brigade

To whom it may concern. As one interested in the Town Fire Brigade I would like to urge a more business like method adopted at the monthly meeting. A regular "round up" of the equipment, and meetings held at stated intervals to see that everything is kept in ship shape order, for the protection of our townpeople in case a fire breaks out.

Yours truly, TOWNSMAN.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club met Saturday last when a very enjoyable program was given. A. T. A. MEETING

The monthly meeting of Bow Valley A. T. A. was held on Tuesday, April 20, 1937 at 7:30 p.m. Due to the mild weather and good roads, a good turnout was recorded. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Mossleigh on May 1st at 7:30 p.m. This meeting will take the form of a lecture, concluding in a Social Evening. A record attendance is hoped for.

After the discussion of the business three very interesting addresses were heard. Miss Garrett and Mr. Hoover enlightened us as to the happenings at Edmonton during the convention. Mr. Taylor outlined the new course in Social Studies for grade 7 and 8. At the termination of this meeting refreshments were served by Miss Peter.

GRAIN INQUIRY

The Turgenev Grain Inquiry meeting in Edmonton last week heard Dr. McCalla recommend the exclusion of Garnet wheat from the Northern Grades.

Dr. F. A. Wyatt head of the Dept of Soils at the University stated the best wheat in Alberta is grown, where rainfall is a hazard.

When the grain section of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce answered Dr. McCalla's recommendations, it proposed Garnet variety be eliminated from No. 3 Northern but admitted to No. 4 and other Northern grades. No. 3 C. W. Garnet would be made a new grade and added to No. 1 and No. 2 C. W. Garnet. The Northern areas were good farming areas, it contended.

Several farmers were heard during the sittings, with most of them urging continuance of the open market method of disposing of grain. Angus McDouall of St. Albert, one of the farmers urging continuance of the open market, proposed a guaranteed price commensurate with cost of production plus a reasonable margin of profit. J. A. Whitford, who retired from his Bon Accord farm 18 months ago, supported what he termed marketing with an initial and interim payments to producers.

Among last mile alterations, the house were the questions of whether distribution, with another year's grace until the utilities board, and the latter ending in a partial win for teach-were removed summarily when it was learned Alberta trustees were not fa-record in political doubling, forensic
